请听第 4 段材料,回答第 13 至第 15 小题。

Life today has many problems. One of the biggest is pollution. Water pollution has made rivers and lakes dirty. It kills the fish and pollutes the drinking water. Noise pollution makes us talk louder and become angry more easily. Air pollution is the most serious pollution. It's bad for all living things in the world.

We need to do a lot of things to fight pollution. Factories shouldn't pour dirty water into rivers. And they mustn't send out smoke into the air. We can't throw waste things on the ground. We can go to work by bus or with our friends in the same car. If there are fewer people driving on the roads, there will be less pollution.

Several years have passed, but I still remember that night.

It happened when I was in Grade 6 in primary school. One day after school, I went to my friend's home to have dinner. And I planned to spend the night with my friend at her home. I was so excited that I just forgot to call my mom about the plan. It rained heavily late at night. I heard someone knocking at the door. It was my father holding an umbrella standing outside the door. He told me my mom was so worried that she called anyone she knew. Then someone told her I was here. My mom must babysit my young brother at home so my father went out to look for me. I felt so sorry and I burst into tears. I was ill at that time and I need to take Chinese medicine. When I got home, my mother gave me the hot Chinese medicine and told me not to cry. I couldn't help crying loudly because I was regretful for what I did.

It was an unforgettable day in my life. I realized that parents' love for children was that great and I love my parents.
