Possible version I

Last Sunday, I took Cindy, an exchange student from America, to experience Chinese culture. We went to visit the Tea Museum.

First, the guide told us stories about the discovery of tea and we also learned how tea was produced in China. Then Cindy and I admired beautiful tea sets in the museum. They were made of different materials. This was the first time for us to see so many kinds of tea sets. After that, we watched wonderful tea art performances. They were just as enjoyable as drinking tea itself. At last, we enjoyed some tea from different places in China.

Cindy kept saying "Amazing!", which made me really proud of our rich culture.

Possible version II

Last Sunday, I took Cindy, an exchange student from America, to experience Chinese culture. We went to visit the Traditional Art Museum.

First, we admired beautiful Chinese clay pieces. How lively and cute the clay characters were! Then Cindy and I tried traditional paper cutting. It sounded very easy, but in fact, it was really difficult to do it well. After that, we admired chopsticks made of different materials and we also learned a lot about the history of chopsticks. At last, Cindy bought a pair of silver chopsticks as a gift for her mother.

Cindy kept saying “Amazing!”, which made me really proud of our rich culture.

Apples are different in color, size and taste. The colors of their skin may be red, green or yellow. They come in different sizes. The large and red apples are usually delicious. The taste may be sweet or sour. Generally, sweet apples are eaten freshly while some other kinds of apples are used to make apple juice.

W: Hello, everyone. Today, I am going to talk about the great changes which have taken place in people's life in the past 30 years. In the past people kept in touch with their family or friends mainly by writing letters. They used to listen to the radio for news and other information. Children used to go to school on foot. Big families had to share small rooms.

Now people can talk to others by mobile phone or on the Internet at home. When they are free, they watch the news and other programs on TV. Some families are rich enough to send their children to school in their own cars. More and more people live in big and bright apartments with several rooms.

In a word, people live a better life than before.

Our School Rulers and Chinese Table Manners

In our school, there are many rules we have to follow. First, we are not allowed to take mobile phones to school. Second, we must wear school uniform at school. And we can't run in the hallway or eat in the classroom. I think the rules are necessary for the students, but some of them are too strict. I think students should be allowed to wear their own clothes. Because students want to be fashion, too.

There are also some table manners in China. We are not supposed to point at others with chopsticks. And we are not supposed to start eating first if there are older people at the table. We shouldn't talk with our mouth full, either. The table manners are interesting. If you follow the manners, you'll have a good time when you visit your Chinese friends.
